

indigo leaf - About Us

Document: IL03

Established in 2010, indigo leaf is a boutique sales consultancy that concentrates on delivering its services through the application of direct and hands on sales activity. The team are a collection of high calibre business & sales executives who continue to deliver success across a wide range of industries

In the new era of business practice, created by the global financial crisis, the onset of internet led commerce, social media and increased regulation like GDPR, small to medium sized enterprises find the sales landscape increasingly complex. It is indigo leaf's mission to remove these complications and deliver the right direction for our clients. We remain hands-on in our approach, enabling us to advise our clients purely on the evidence we gather from performing the sales function, and the extensive years of senior experience the team hold.
